Sitting on the bus resting, Rosa was wanting a nap while going home from her job.

White people were sitting and blacks were standing. Rosa was sitting, resting, and thinking.

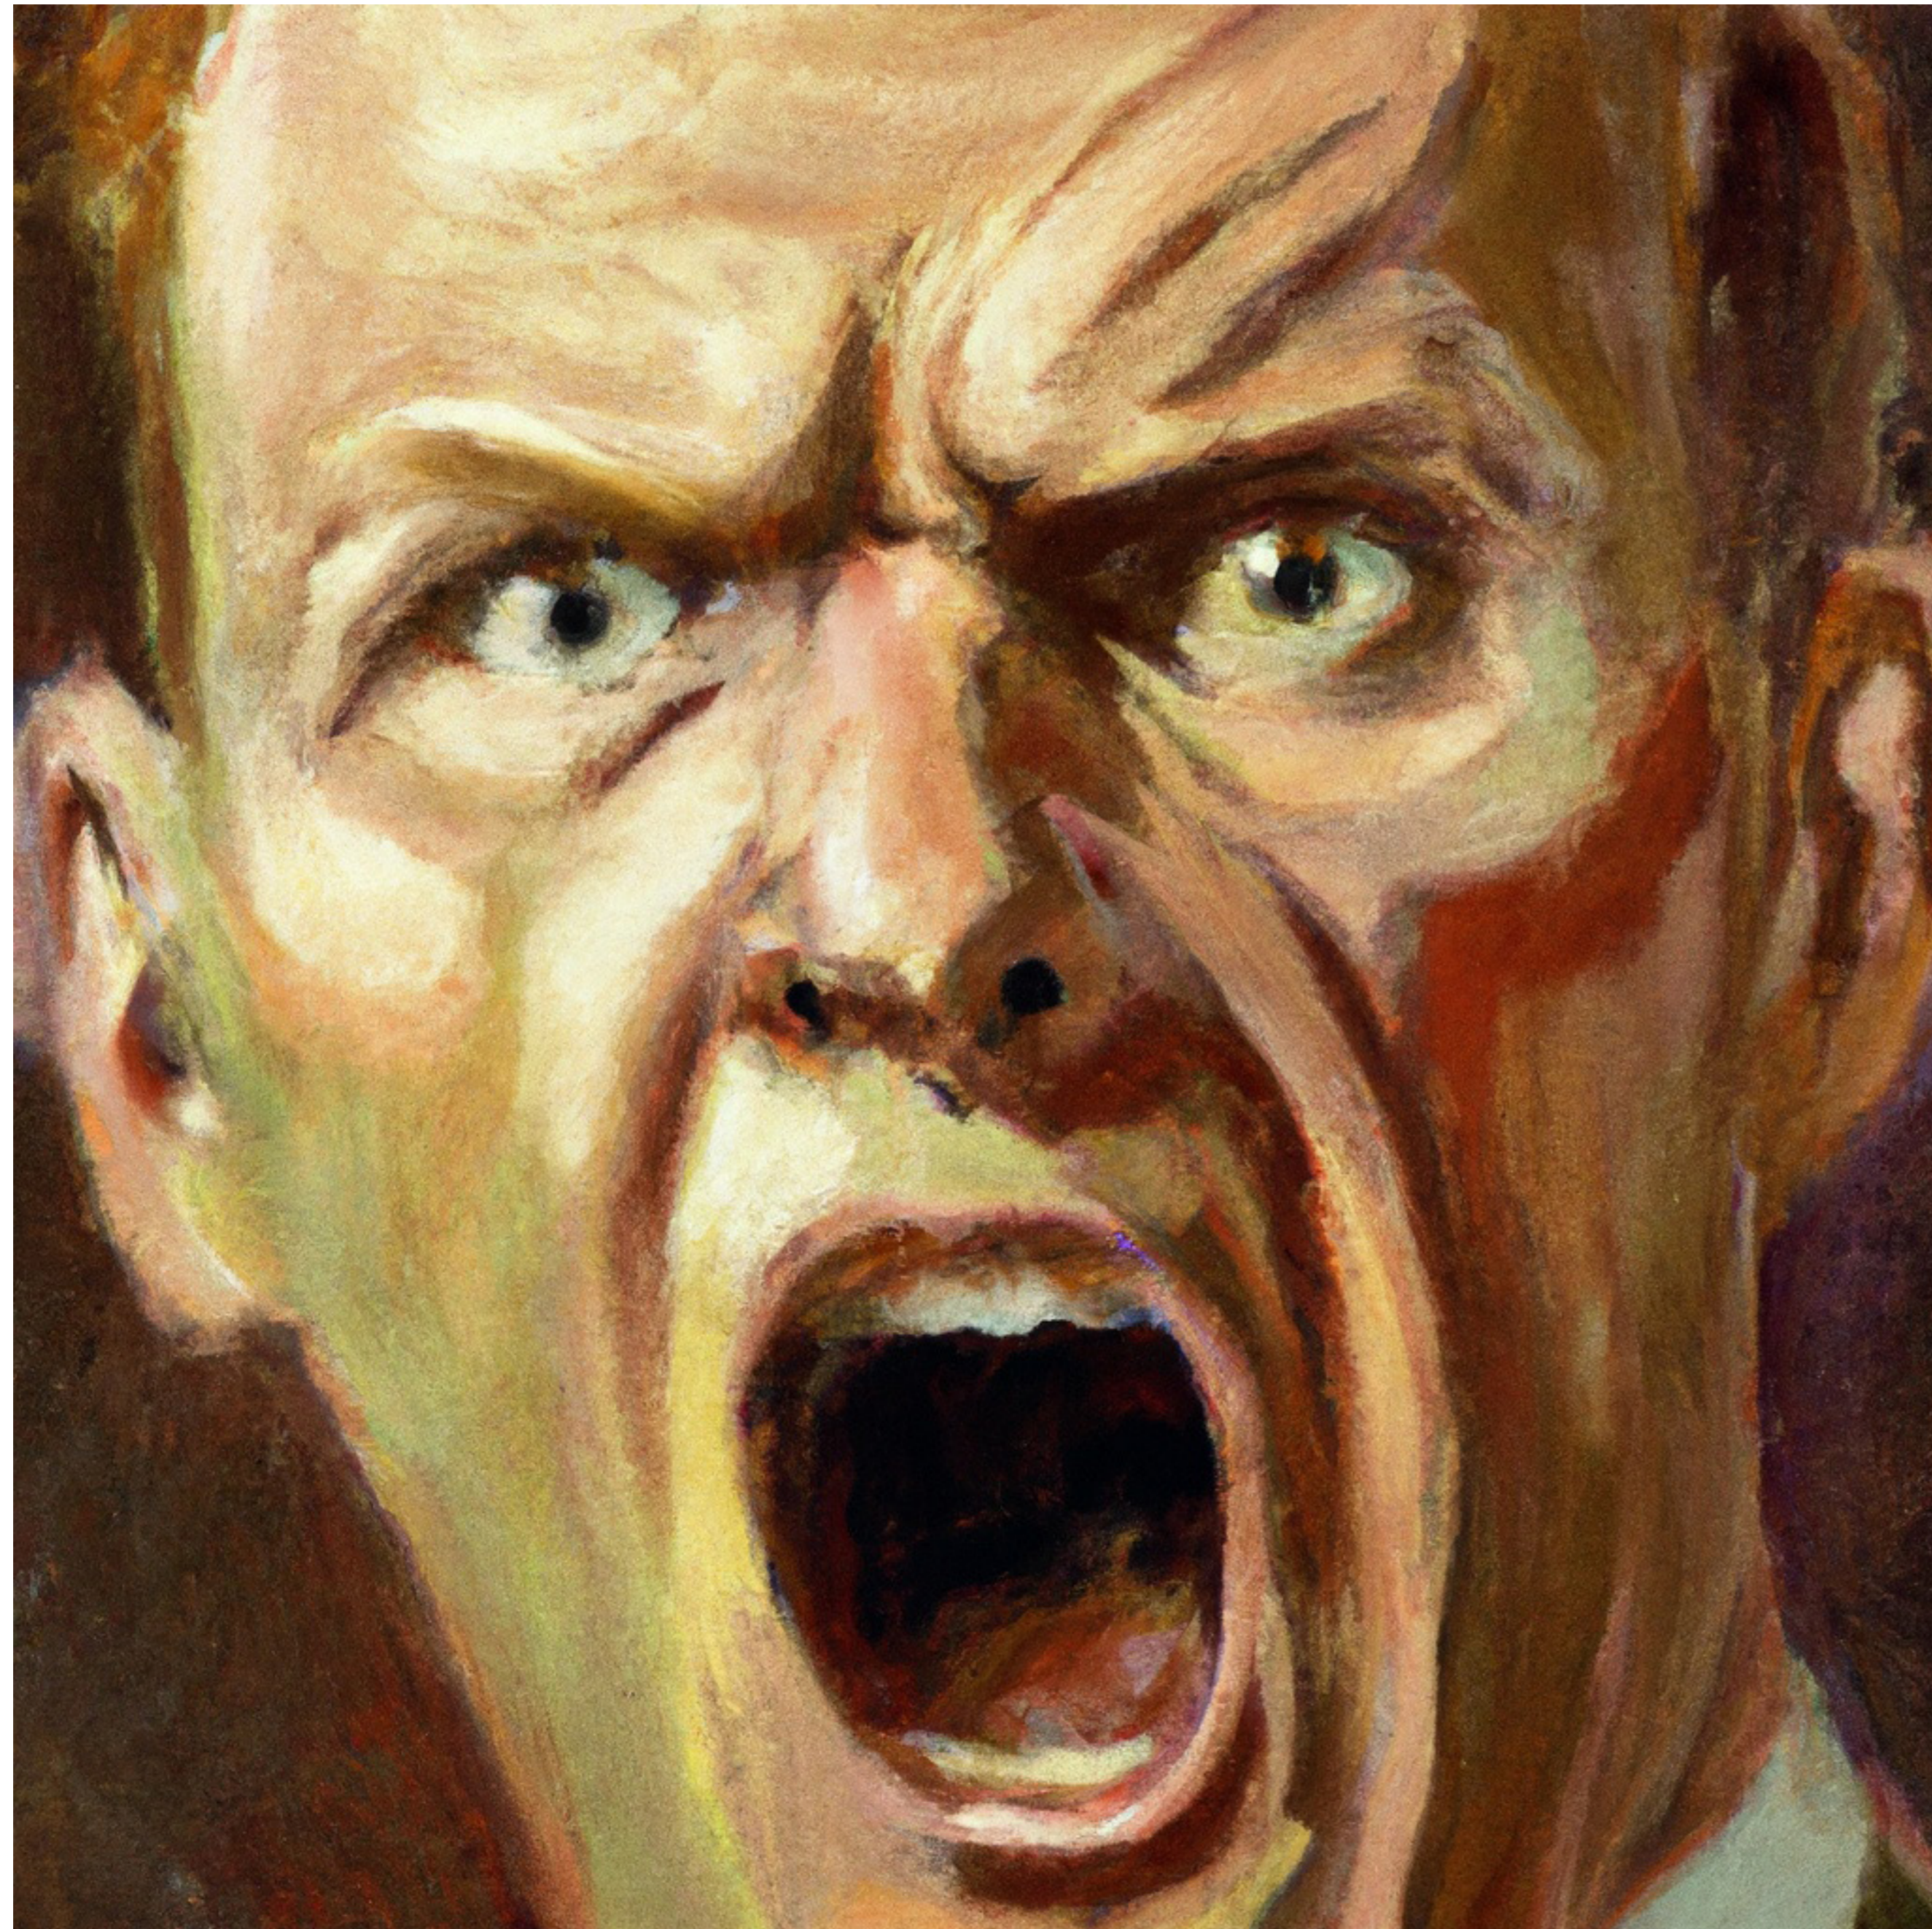

Yelling and getting mad, a white man said, "You must be standing!"

Looking up Rosa said, "No," and kept resting, sitting, and thinking.

Rosa not standing was showing that the rules were not helping her.

Yelling, the man began ranting about Rosa not standing.

People standing on the bus were looking and saying, "What is going on?"

Shocking all by not standing, but resting and sitting, Rosa was standing up for blacks.

Police were then grabbing, pushing, and pulling Rosa off the bus, blasting her for not sticking to the rules.

New rules came out that were shocking, stunning, and wowing. Now, all people can be sitting on the bus.
